MOCHA MANGO

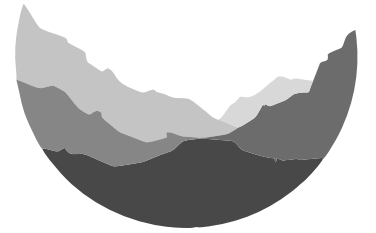

Mocha Mango, located in a small and narrow shop space measuring approximately 7.5 meters by 2.2 meters, presents a unique challenge in design: creating a vibrant, functional, and modern space that maximizes both aesthetics and utility. The design strategy for this space blends the vibrant energy of the existing orange storefront with a fresh, contemporary palette of black, mustard, and orange, creating an inviting and bold atmosphere.

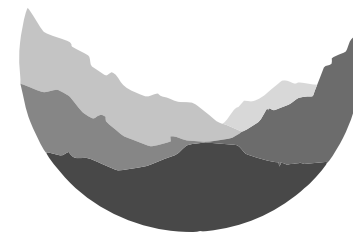

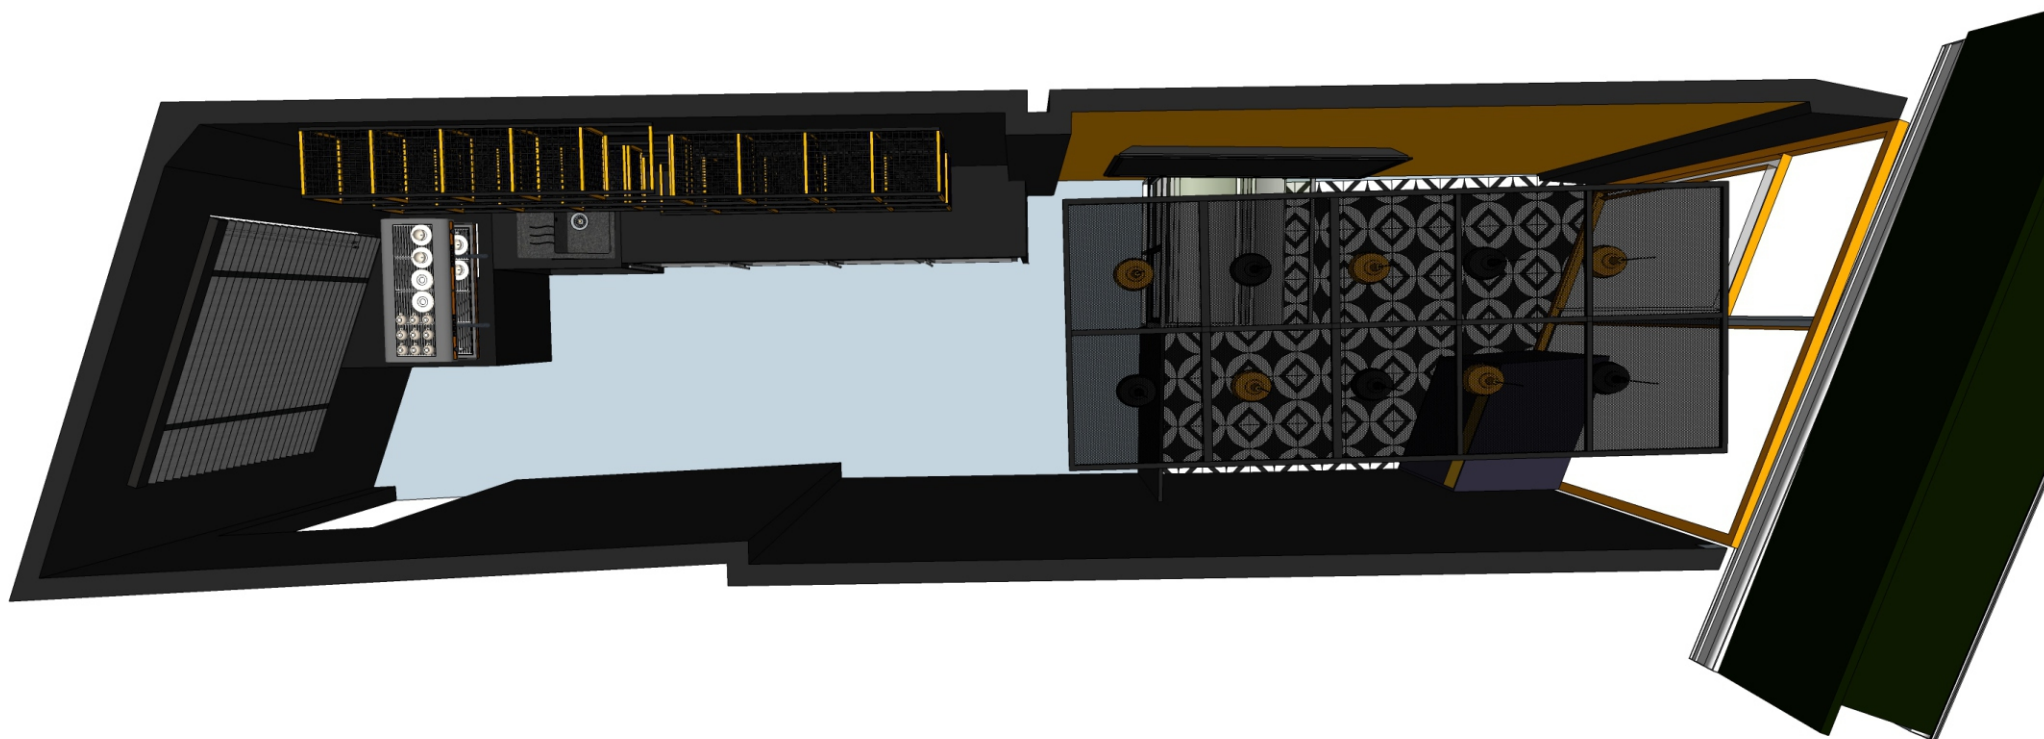

Inspired by the modern European café culture and the bustling energy of city life, the interior design of Mocha Mango has been carefully curated to reflect a chic, urban ambiance while maintaining warmth and friendliness. The black and white checkered flooring, with its subtle pattern, is a modern twist on traditional flooring styles and evokes a sense of nostalgia, grounding the space in a timeless aesthetic.

The industrial elements, such as the metal box pipe shelving and mesh ceiling, both powder-coated in black with orange accents, add to the modern, raw, and edgy look. This metal detailing is juxtaposed with warm mustard tones, creating a visual balance that is as much about form as it is about function. The pendant lights, arranged in a checkered pattern across the ceiling, not only enhance the geometric theme but also add a dynamic interplay of light and shadow, adding depth to the compact space.

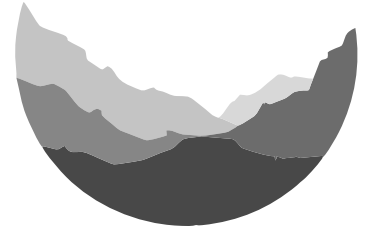

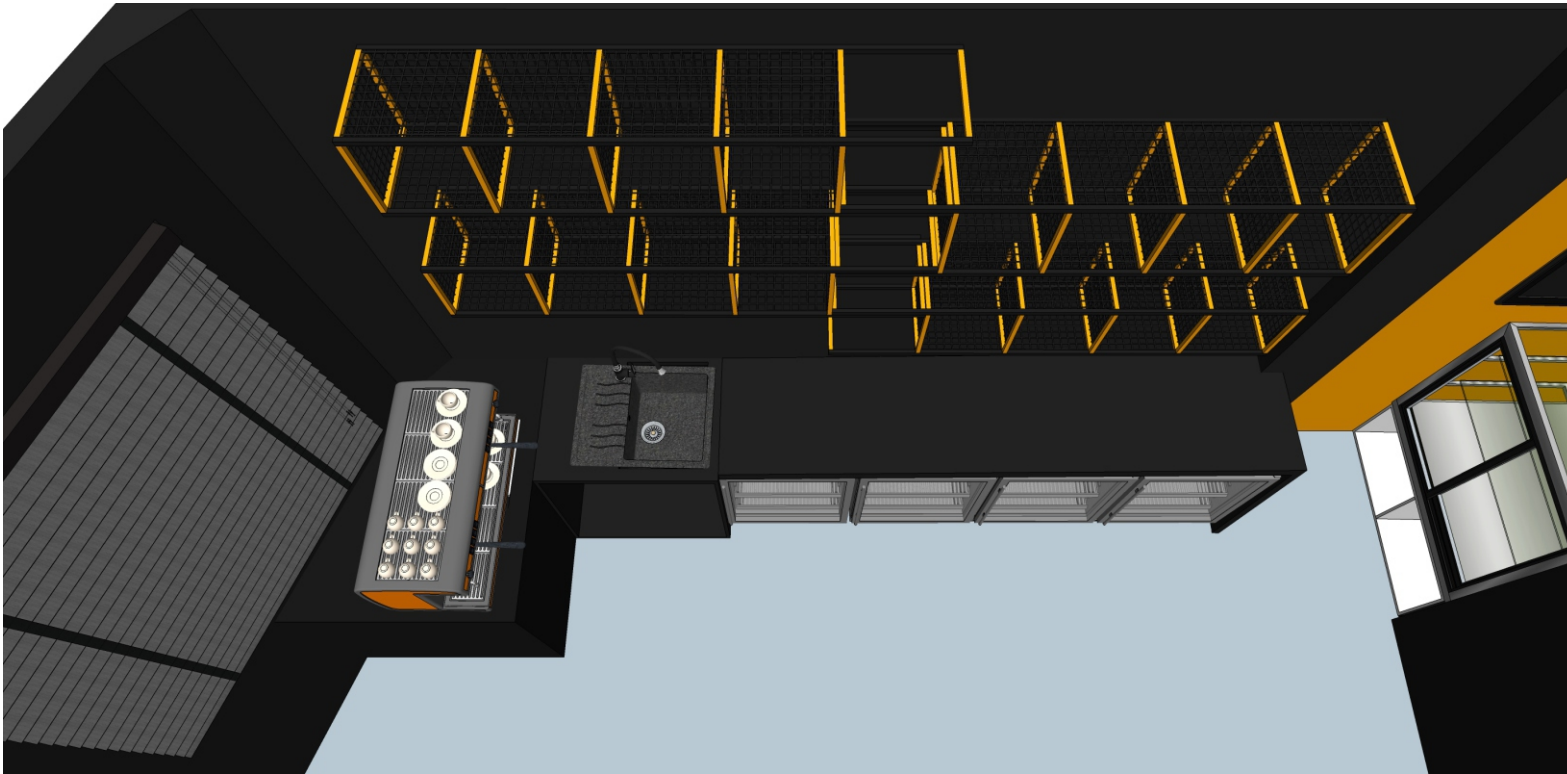

With this design, we aim to capture the essence of Mocha Mango as more than just a juice and coffee shop—it's a space where customers can feel energized, comfortable, and connected.

DESIGN ELEMENTS

Flooring: The Modern Checkerboard

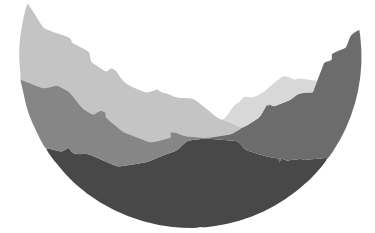

The foundation of the Mocha Mango design is the distinctive black and white checkered floor, with a subtle pattern variation. Traditionally associated with classic diners or retro spaces, this version is updated to reflect a contemporary flair. The slight variation in the checkerboard pattern gives the floor a sophisticated edge, while maintaining the practical benefits of easy maintenance and durability.

This floor design is not just an aesthetic choice but also a nod to historical cafés and eateries, where such flooring was commonly seen. It evokes the warmth of community spaces while seamlessly integrating into a modern design narrative.

Shelving: Industrial Meets Urban Chic

The shelving design consists of a metal box pipe structure with a mesh background, powder-coated in black with mustard accents. This approach ensures that the shelves are sturdy enough to support the display of fruits, products, and merchandise, while maintaining an airy, open feel. The choice of black and orange/mustard color accents ensures consistency with the store's exterior, creating a seamless flow from the shopfront to the interior.

Additionally, the use of metal mesh gives the shop an industrial yet refined aesthetic. It serves as a practical and visually intriguing framework that contrasts with the natural textures of the products on display, adding a sharp, urban edge to the interior.

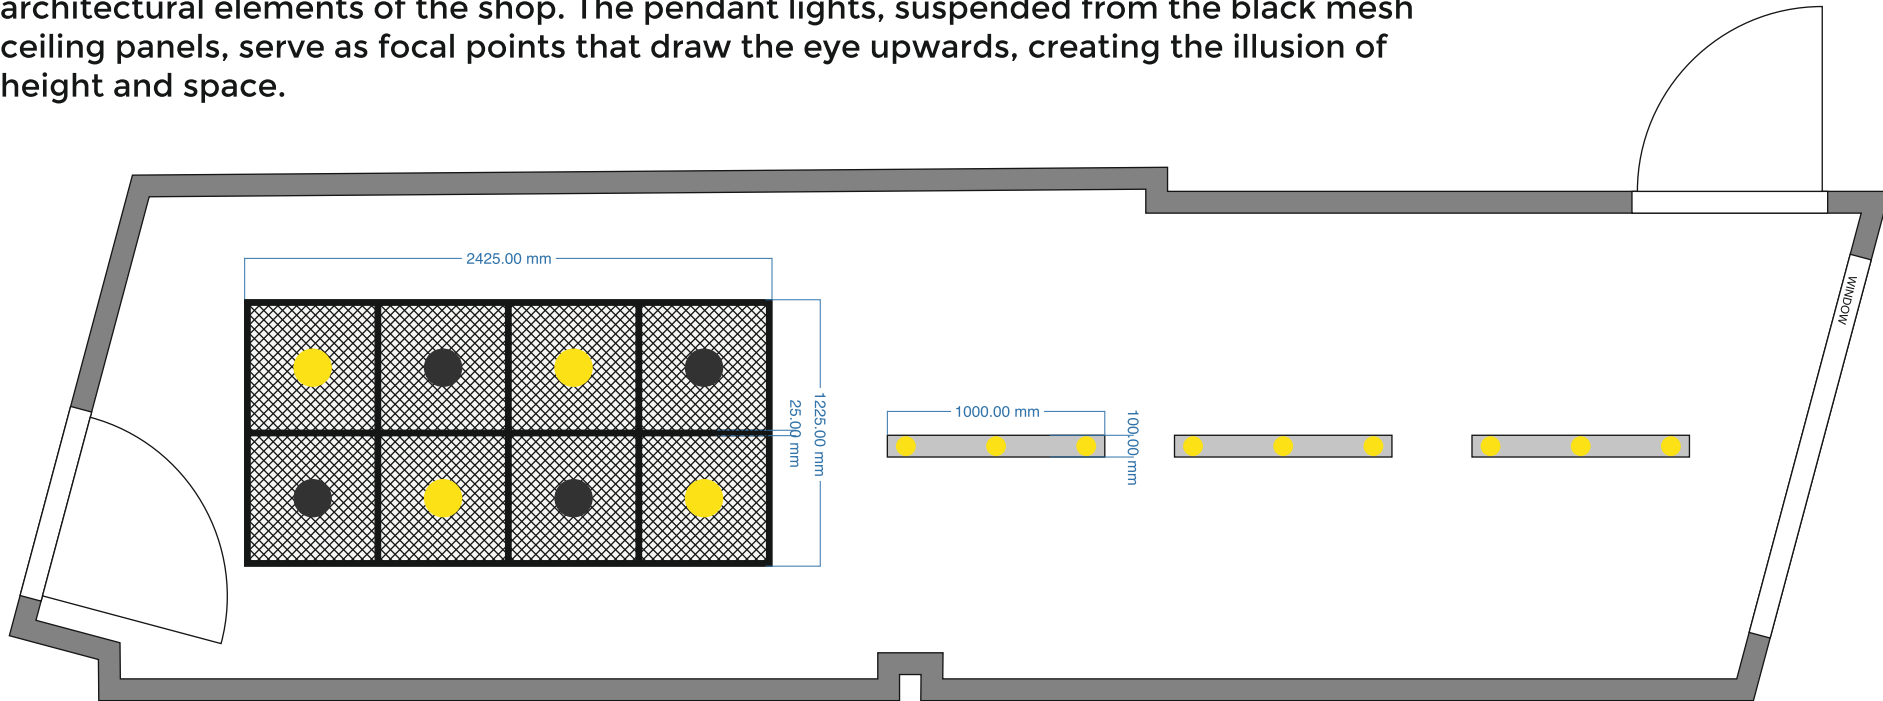

Ceiling: A Unique Play of Light and Structure

The ceiling design brings the industrial-modern theme full circle with mesh panels and metal framework, all powder-coated in black with mustard touches. The ceiling features pendant lights, arranged in a checkerboard formation to mimic the floor design, adding visual harmony to the space. This layering effect also enhances the feeling of depth in the narrow space, making it feel more spacious and dynamic.

The pendant lights, painted in black and mustard tones, are strategically positioned to illuminate the shop evenly, while their industrial aesthetic ties in with the rest of the design elements. The use of black and mustard color for lighting further emphasizes the Mocha Mango brand identity, creating a coherent and vibrant atmosphere.

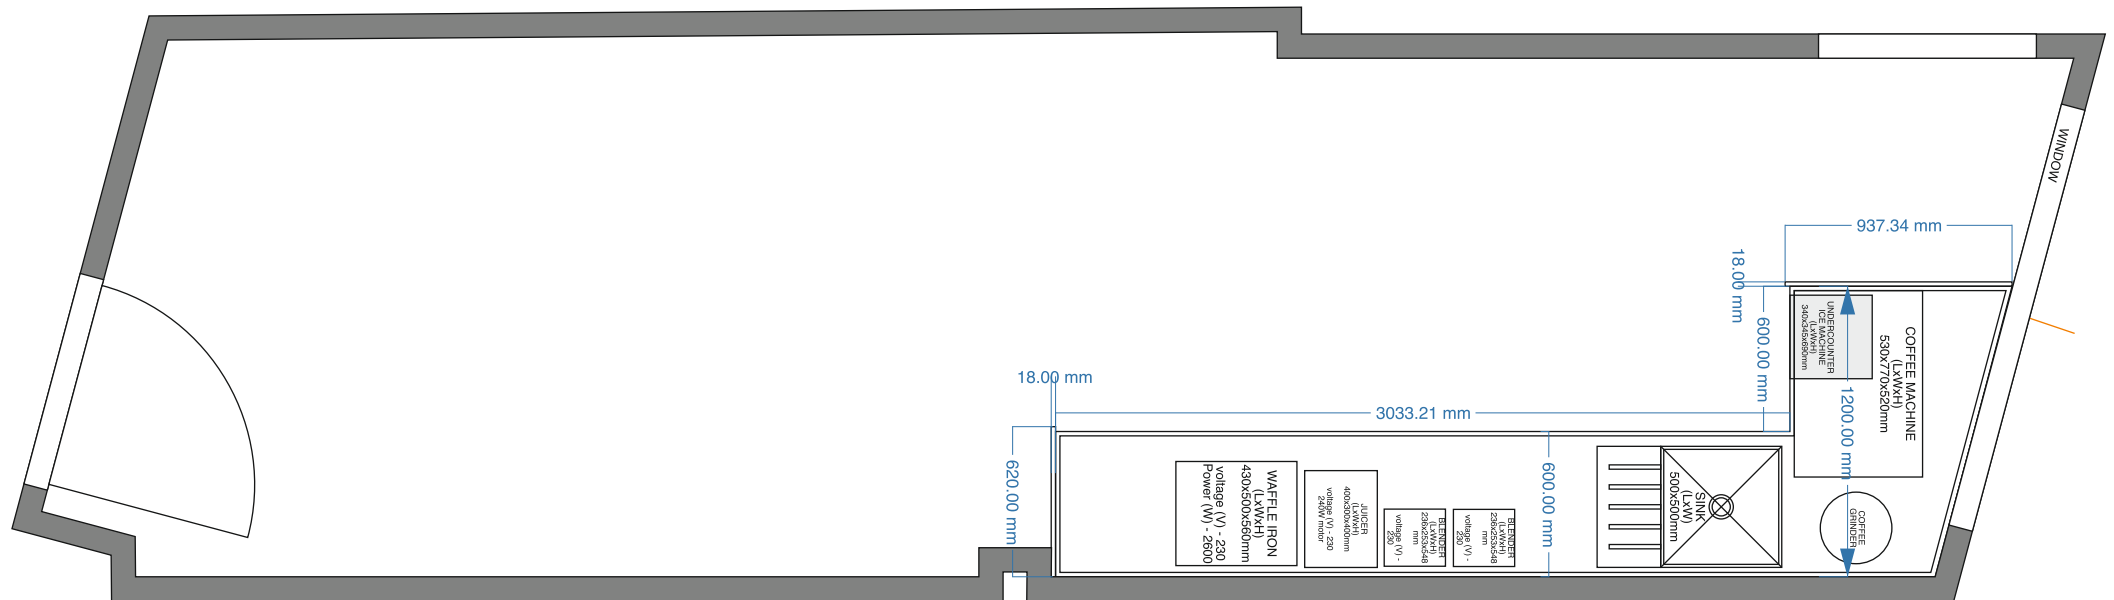

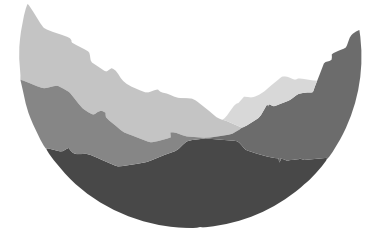

Ceiling & Lighting Plan: Functional and Stylish

The ceiling and lighting plan goes beyond just functionality. It elevates the design by introducing a layered lighting system that not only illuminates but also accentuates the architectural elements of the shop. The pendant lights, suspended from the black mesh ceiling panels, serve as focal points that draw the eye upwards, creating the illusion of height and space.

Each light fixture is carefully placed to ensure even distribution of light, ensuring that both customers and employees benefit from a well-lit space. The subtle mustard accents in the lighting fixtures also tie the ceiling into the broader color scheme, maintaining cohesion throughout the design.

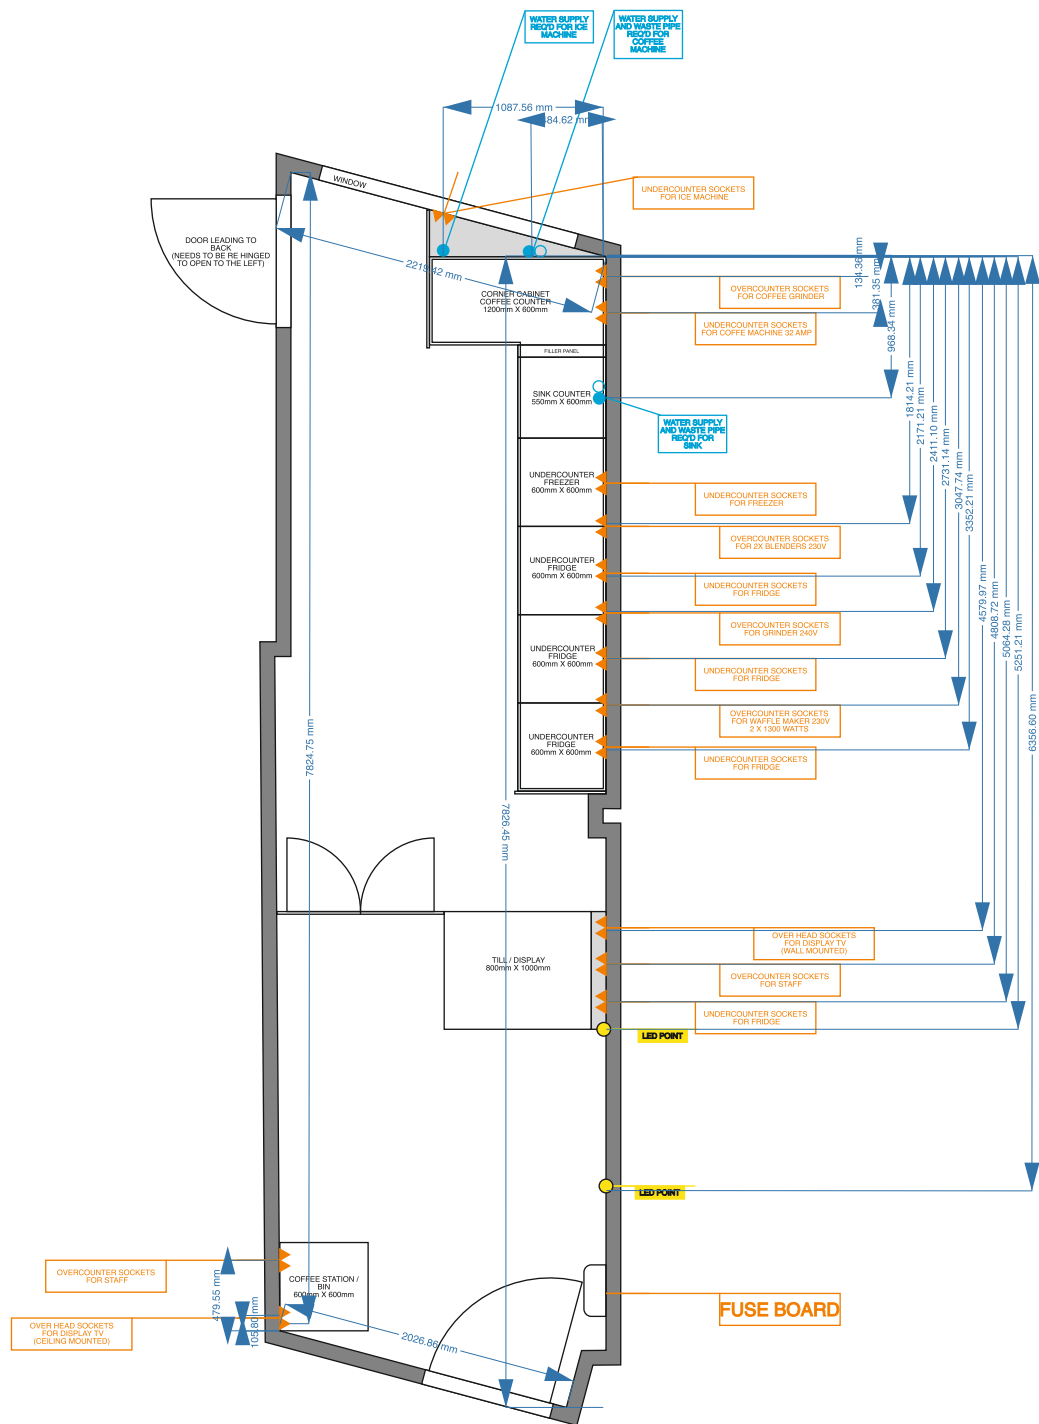

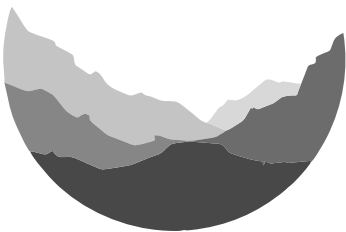

Small Appliances & Worktop Plan: Efficiency in Every Detail

The small appliances and worktop plan has been designed with the workflow in mind. Every piece of equipment, from coffee machines to blenders, has been strategically positioned to allow for seamless transitions between tasks, ensuring that the customer service experience is swift and efficient.

The worktops themselves are designed to be highly functional, offering ample space for preparation while maintaining a sleek, clean look that complements the overall modern aesthetic of the shop.

Services Plan: Comprehensive Infrastructure

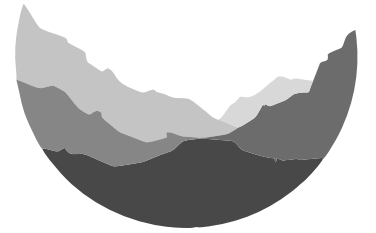

The services plan for Mocha Mango is a key element that ensures smooth operations in such a compact space. The layout takes into account all large undercounter equipment, carcasses, plumbing, and electrical needs.

- Σ Undercounter Equipment: All refrigeration units, storage, and utilities are positioned for maximum efficiency. This ensures that baristas and staff have easy access to tools and ingredients without interrupting the flow of work or the customer experience. The design also considers space optimization, making sure that storage and preparation areas are unobtrusive yet highly functional.
- Σ Electrical Plan: A complete electrical and LED lighting plan has been developed, ensuring ample lighting throughout the space, including task lighting for the worktops and display areas. The LED lighting also contributes to the energy efficiency of the shop, helping to reduce long-term operational costs.
- Σ Plumbing Plan: Plumbing installations have been meticulously planned to accommodate the café's needs, including water lines for coffee machines, sinks, and ice machines, while ensuring compliance with health and safety standards.

This cohesive services plan ensures that Mocha Mango can function efficiently, without compromising on design aesthetics.
